A COMMUNITY STEPS UP

REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY
2019-2020
“The greatness of a community is most accurately measured by the compassionate actions of its members.”

— Coretta Scott King
When our Greater MetroWest Jewish community looks back on 2020, we will certainly feel a great sense of loss and upheaval — the COVID-19 pandemic has taken the lives of some treasured members of our community and has put us all in a state of worry and uncertainty as to what the future holds. At the same time, we will acknowledge with immense pride that our community and has put us all in a state of worry and uncertainty as to what the future holds. At the same time, we will acknowledge with immense pride that our community stepped up and came together in overwhelming support of one another.

Federation’s Emergency Reserve Fund — funded primarily through gifts made by you to the UJA Annual Campaign — was put to immediate and effective use supporting the beloved institutions that make our community what it is. The Board of Trustees acted decisively to quickly get the funds where they were needed most, and continued to reevaluate as the situation evolved.

Our professional team, while working remotely, pivoted quickly. We found creative ways to keep the community connected, help those in need, and organize those who wanted to volunteer their time and efforts. Federations were built for this. Our community is able to respond efficiently because Federation has been here for almost 100 years, building strong relationships and infrastructure, and developing trust, experience, and knowledge. It’s what we do every day, creating a foundation that serves as a source of strength during times of crisis and times of calm.

ON MARCH 13

Governor Murphy announced a lockdown in NJ due to the COVID-19 virus.
WE SERVED THOSE IN NEED
BY SUPPORTING OUR
AGENCY AND SYNAGOGUE PARTNERS

A Jewish community is only as strong as its social service agencies and synagogues. These organizations are literally on the front lines, working with individuals and families to address their physical, emotional, and spiritual well-being. During times of crisis, their services are more essential than ever.

Together, Federation and Jewish Community Foundation fundholders responded with MORE THAN $5 MILLION in COVID-19 response grants, locally, nationally, in Israel, and around the world.

As a Federation, our role is to ensure that these institutions have the resources they need to get the work done. Part of this is financial support, but it also includes providing resources, building coalitions and convening to share best practices, advocating, and so much more.
EMERGENCY FINANCIAL SUPPORT

ADDITIONALLY, WE...

- created a fund to distribute $276,500 in immediate emergency grants to 180 Greater MetroWest day school families with significant income decline.
- awarded grants totaling $259,000 to 22 area synagogue-based early childhood centers to help them safely reopen in fall 2020.
- through a $200,000 grant from the Jewish Camp Fund of JCF, provided outright and matching relief grants to area overnight and day camps.
- granted a loan of $97,500 to Hebrew Free Loan of NJ, a supporting foundation of JCF, to offer interest-free loans to area Jewish businesses and individuals.

OVERSEAS, we allocated $200,000 in emergency support to our overseas partners for their work addressing the COVID-19 crisis around the world. The Jewish Agency for Israel (JAFI) and American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee (JDC) each received $100,000. Here’s how the money was spent:

JAFI
- Domestic violence intervention in Israel
- Improvements in Amigour facilities that serve the elderly, many of whom are Holocaust survivors, as well as new immigrants
- Meeting the crisis needs of new immigrants in absorption centers and those waiting in Ethiopia

JDC
- Emergency food supplies for elderly Jews, especially Holocaust survivors in Israel and the former Soviet Union
- Vital relief such as food, medicine, protective gear, and transportation for homecare workers

$20,000 was allocated to our partners in Ofakim and Rishon LeZion for Passover food packages.

“I am so proud of the caring and generous community of Greater MetroWest, of its strong ties to Israel and world Jewry, and of our ability to connect across time zones and borders, even during this pandemic.”

— Director General & CEO, Overseas Partner Agency
IN ADDITION TO FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE...

Federation dedicated extensive resources to help our partners advocate for their interests, receive state funding, and ensure the safety of their clients and congregants.

- Federation’s Finance Department helped partner agencies and synagogues through the loan application process related to the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act. Additionally, we provided a list of Small Business Administration approved lenders.
- CRC initiated an Action Alert to request senators to consider emergency legislation to replenish the Paycheck Protection Loan Program to include at least $250 billion in additional resources and to set aside funding specifically for the nonprofit sector. Our Action Alert Facebook post reached close to 1,000 people.
- Federation’s Community Security Initiative:
  • created a Guide to Emergency Procedures,
  • co-hosted a Hostility, Aggression and Rage Management Training session/program that was attended by representatives from more than half of our synagogue and partner agencies,
  • presented on the importance of Law Enforcement partnerships on a National Panel Discussion sponsored by the Secure Community Network,
  • and worked with partner institutions to create comprehensive re-opening procedures and guidelines to ensure that all employees, clients, and congregants remain safe.

“Over the past several months I have been in weekly contact with other JFSs in New Jersey and, while I always knew it, it has become only more clear how lucky we are to be part of the Greater MetroWest community. Your immediate response to the pandemic and your commitment to support the agencies has been far above and beyond anything the other JFSs have experienced. I am extremely appreciative of our strong working relationship and Federation’s support now during this complicated time and always.”

— CEO, Partner Agency

“Leadership and responsibility includes not running and hiding during a crisis. Federation was visible and present at a time when people felt very lost. This played a critical role in the general feeling within the GMW community, especially when people felt very alone.”

— Executive Director, Partner Agency

FEDERATION, in its role as community convener, has been creating opportunities for agency and synagogue leaders to come together virtually to address their shared concerns. These have included multiple forums for day schools, early childhood centers, synagogues, camps, and mental health professionals.

The COMMUNITY RELATIONS COMMITTEE has been coordinating calls with legislators to advocate for the needs of our community. We held a Zoom call with Cory Booker and four other NJ Jewish federations to share with our junior senator how our agencies are managing during the pandemic, taking care of our community’s most vulnerable populations. More than 50 lay leaders, major donors, Federation professionals, and agency executives from Greater MetroWest joined the call, along with 75 other Jewish community representatives from across the state.
WE ENSURED THE COMMUNITY STAYED CONNECTED

Federation quickly adapted to the virtual environment and found creative ways to bring the community together and allow everyone to feel connected. From large-scale events with high-profile speakers to more intimate gatherings, we provided a variety of opportunities for community members of every age and stage to discuss timely topics, be entertained, volunteer, and engage in Jewish learning together.

1,008 new people were added to our Federation email lists compared to 473 last year.

Since March 15, 577 people came to their very first Federation event.

Since March, more than 250 volunteers delivered essentials to 85 home-bound individuals, reached out to more than 700 people, collected more than 500 masks for clients of our partner agencies, and so much more!

“Our middle schoolers just finished a Zoom call with the rishonim. There are no words to describe how important this encounter is. Beyond the personal connection, this creates a lasting connection to Israel, a connection between students of different classes, and the opportunity to become a part of a larger group.”
— Director of Israel Education, Day School

As part of the Yom Hazikaron commemoration and Yom Ha’Atzmaut celebrations, our rishonim broadcast about 30 different activities to Greater MetroWest Day Schools, congregational schools, and JCCs within 48 hours.
SHIFTING ANNUAL EVENTS TO THE VIRTUAL PLATFORM

323 community members — a record turnout — virtually attended the Federation Annual Meeting in May to celebrate outgoing and incoming leadership and what we had accomplished together in the face of an unprecedented crisis.

In recognition of Yom Ha’Atzmaut (Israel Independence Day) and Yom Hazikaron (remembering Israel’s fallen soldiers) we created a Celebrating Israel webpage of videos and resources as well as a virtual lecture series with some of our favorite Israeli tour guides from the commUNITY Mission.

Community Mitzvah Day, a favorite family volunteer day, and J-Serve, the corresponding teen service-learning event, quickly evolved into an extensive selection of volunteer opportunities for families and individuals to help those in need in the community.

Our beloved rishonim (young Israeli emissaries) flew home in March but they continued their programs with day schools and congregational schools and found many other ways to stay connected. They also volunteered in a variety of ways in our partner communities in the Negev.

Teen programs such as Iris Teen Tzedakah, Diller Teen Fellows, and Mitzvah Mania switched to the virtual realm, finishing up the year despite the challenges.

Women’s Philanthropy took 150 Lion of Judah donors on a virtual mission to Miami for an exclusive tour of the Judith Leiber exhibit at the Jewish Museum of Florida.

DISCOVERING NEW WAYS TO STAY CONNECTED

Our country was thrown into turmoil with the senseless killing of George Floyd. Our Federation realized that we could not stand idly by in the face of racial injustice. We began a two-pronged series of virtual conversations on Racism in America, one for adults and one for teens, through which we began to educate ourselves about the systemic problems and determine ways that we can help bring about positive change.

Thanks to a generous gift from the Cooperman Family Charitable Fund we planned a variety of Summer in GMW programs to help parents keep kids and teens engaged as they faced a summer with widespread camp and program closures. This included popular online pre-Shabbat concerts and the delivery of more than 900 “summer fun” boxes to families throughout the community.

“Thank you. It was wonderful to focus on the learning and be distracted for a short time from all of the craziness right now. It was so calming and ‘normalizing’ to be able to learn some Torah with all of you this morning. Thank you again.” — Participant at virtual Torah with Dov meeting

Global Connections hosted a Virtual Kabbalat Shabbat, bringing together community members from New Jersey, Ukraine, and Israel in a celebratory cross-continent service.

We created a Virtual Passover resource page which included videos and content from 30 local clergy and educators, more than 20 links to online Passover resources, and more than 10 links to virtual Seders. This page was visited more than 3,000 times.
VOLUNTEERING TO LEND A HELPING HAND

More than 250 volunteers, including 30 teens, registered on our “I Want to Help” form to meet the immediate needs of the community.

Partnered with IsraAID to enlist volunteers to work at The Community Food Bank of New Jersey for more than 15 weeks to help feed food-insecure families in Greater MetroWest.

Volunteering to Lend a Helping Hand

Packaged and delivered 120 Passover food packages to those in need and to Jewish healthcare workers at local hospitals.

NextDor organized the collection of more than 500 homemade masks for clients of JESPY House and JCC MetroWest Kosher Meals on Wheels.

Federation provided Target gift cards as part of a gratitude campaign for the 625 front-line workers at our partner agencies.

Collected and donated hundreds of phone chargers for patients at St. Barnabas, Morristown, and Overlook hospitals.

Our nine chaplains stayed in touch with clients and continued making hospital visits when possible. Within a three-week time period, they were in touch with more than 700 people in our community through phone calls, in-person visits, emails, and even handwritten notes.

Volunteers made weekly phone calls to more than 300 home-bound seniors to just check in.

Volunteers shopped for and delivered food to more than 85 home-bound community members.

More than 25 seniors received tech support from volunteers, enabling them to stay connected to loved ones during quarantine.

More than 250 volunteers, including 30 teens, registered on our “I Want to Help” form to meet the immediate needs of the community.

“I just wanted to take a moment to thank you for organizing the salute to our homecare heroes yesterday! It was so lovely and so thoughtful. They were so excited and grateful for the recognition. Although we could not see their smiles through their face coverings, I think the joy in their eyes said it all, it was almost palpable. As their supervisor, it warmed my heart that joy and hope replaced the fear I had been seeing these past two months. Please extend my gratitude to all at Federation for thinking of us.”

— Director of Nursing Services, Partner Agency
In an economic downturn, when philanthropists often pull back on their giving because of financial instability, the donors in Greater MetroWest NJ did just the opposite. Since the onset of the coronavirus crisis, we saw resounding support of the community’s UJA Annual Campaign. An overwhelming number of donors recognized the impact they could make with their dollars. This unprecedented generosity put the 2020 Campaign well ahead of the previous year’s dollars raised.

“In my mind, there is no better guarantor that we can face challenges, address multiple needs, and ensure the health and vitality of the Jewish community than a strong Federation. I think the power and impact of collective action is the only way we get things done properly and that’s why my family and I recognize the importance of financially supporting the UJA Campaign.”

— Michael Goldberg,
Chair of the Board of Trustees of The Jewish Federations of North America and Trustee of Jewish Federation of Greater MetroWest NJ

“What is truly telling to me is that people have so many choices about where to give their philanthropic dollars. The fact that they’re choosing, during this crisis, to give to the UJA Annual Campaign reflects both their commitment to their Jewish community and their confidence that Federation can put the money to use in the most impactful way.”

— Mark Wilf,
Chair of the Board of Trustees of The Jewish Federations of North America and Trustee of Jewish Federation of Greater MetroWest NJ

This year has been challenging for the Jewish Community Foundation (JCF), as it has been to our nation and our world. But never have we been more proud and grateful to be a part of the JCF. This is a moment in time when the work of the JCF not only fills our minds and crowds our calendars. It also touches our souls.

Over these past months of the COVID-19 crisis, our JCF “family” — donor-advised fund (DAF) holders, supporting foundations, advisory councils, agency fundholders, and our Board leadership — have responded with care, thoughtfulness, and incredible generosity.

Our JCF has distributed more than $3.2 million for COVID-19 relief grants between March 1 and June 30. Grants from our JCF fundholders have provided Kosher meals to needy families throughout our community, connected isolated seniors to programs through new online tools, offered tuition relief to out-of-work day school parents, helped uplift non-profits in the Negev so they can better serve their communities, provided expanded chaplaincy visits to Jewish COVID-19 patients in area hospitals, and much, much more.

Our JCF — the planned giving and endowment arm of our Jewish Federation of Greater MetroWest NJ — has spent years painstakingly building deeper and more effective ties with our Federation partners to maximize the impact of our fundholders’ philanthropy across our Jewish community, in Israel, and in our partner communities around the world.

All of this groundwork paid off handsomely during this crisis. A perfect example is in the field of Jewish camp, where an entire department — the Greater MetroWest Jewish Camp Enterprise — has been built over more than a decade, largely through support of JCF supporting foundations. With that infrastructure in place, our Greater MetroWest community was able to “turn on a dime” and launch one of the most comprehensive and impactful responses to the Jewish camp crisis in North America. With the continued support of JCF funders, we provided alternative summer programs to hundreds of local children and teens and more than $200,000 in grants to area Jewish summer camps to help meet significant deficits due to camp closures. And we planned a summer-long cycling challenge to raise funds for scholarships and incentive grants for summer 2021. All of this groundwork paid off handsomely during this crisis.

Looking ahead, we seek to work together with our board, professional leadership, and Federation partners to build on that foundation toward the achievement of several key milestones over the next few years, such as launching the largest endowment legacy effort in our history for Federation’s 100th anniversary in 2023. Thank you for being here for our community today and for working with us to help plan for tomorrow.
JCF FUNDHOLDER COVID-19 RESPONSE GIVING

IMPACTING LIVES THROUGH JCF

COVID-19 response grants from our JCF fundholders, from March through June 30, totaled more than $3.2 million. These grants provided major support for the Greater MetroWest Federation, its partner agencies, and synagogues, as well as secular organizations such as food pantries and social service agencies. This included individual DAF holders and Supporting Foundations as well as JCF Advisory Councils which oversee major targeted funds of JCF.

Here are some of the programs made possible through JCF grants:

- $276,500 in tuition relief for more than 180 Jewish Day School families with job or income loss, largely through the JCF Day School Advisory Council and DAF holders.
- $200,000 in outright and matching grants for 11 area Jewish overnight camps and 3 JCC day camps to help them survive a potentially crippling crisis of camp closures and or partial openings. The funding, allocated through the JCF Jewish Camp Advisory Council, helped the camps leverage an additional $100,000 in national matching grants.
- $160,000 from the Grotta Fund for Senior Care for support to older adults for kosher Meals on Wheels, food delivery and gift cards, Passover packages, and additional chaplaincy hours, as well as supplemental food for Newark residents, and a new grants program for COVID-19 recovery efforts for local agencies.
- $130,000 from the Mack Ness Fund to help non-profits in the Negev respond to and recover from the crisis, addressing issues of employment, tourism, small business promotion, and new technology.
- $100,000 from the Cooperman Family Charitable Fund to create “alternative summer programs” for Greater MetroWest children, youth and families, ranging from “Camp in a Box” to online pre-Shabbat family concerts, to virtual paid internships and expanded volunteer opportunities for teens.
- $97,500 in loans from the Hebrew Free Loan of NJ to 25 individuals facing business setbacks or other challenges.
- $50,000 from the Sobel Family Supporting Foundation to purchase online tools for seniors facing isolation at home, and to help meet increased need for food cards and pantry supplies at our local Jewish Family Services.
- $40,000 from the Jewish Women’s Foundation to local agencies to help women who are at increased risk of domestic violence, as well as a grant for iPads for girls in a partner community in the Negev.
- $130,000 from the Mack Ness Fund to help non-profits in the Negev respond to and recover from the crisis, addressing issues of employment, tourism, small business promotion, and new technology.
