Jewish Day School Tuition
Max
2017 - 2021

prepared by Federation’s Impact Department
any questions, contact Rebecca Hindin,
Director of Greater MetroWest Day School,
at RHindentjfedgmw.org
Why Day School Middle Income Families Need Financial Assistance?

Since 2017, total number of Day School families decreased 11%.

Since 2017, total number of Day School students decreased 8%.
Why Day School Middle Income Families Need Financial Assistance?

Since 2017, total number of Day School's low income families decreased 24%.

and

Since 2017, total number of Day School's full paying families decreased 11%.
Since 2017, the number of Day School's middle income families increased 24%,

"A major benefit of the program for both current and prospective parents is the long term financial planning that the program offers. Parents appreciate the ability to plan financially, with reasonable certainty, the impact of their family's Jewish education on their finances." -CFO of a day school
Jewish Day School Tuition Max

Why Day School Middle Income Families Need Financial Assistance?

And

Since 2017, scholarships the Day Schools* provided to middle income families, increased 17%.

"The Tuition Max program was instrumental in the decision of 12 students who applied". - Admissions Director of a day school

*does not include JEC.
*does not include the scholarship from Vision.